Letter from Fauquier

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

MARSHALL, July 18 1891.—The Good Templar bush-meeting to be held midway between Rectortown and Marshall for three days, commencing Tuesday, July 28th, has every promise of a large attendance. Fauquier still may be considered the banner county of Virginia in behalf of the temperance cause.

"We woman pray for better times And work right hard to make 'em, You men vote liquor with its crimes And just have to take 'em."

Now, this time do not thus vote, but come to brother Rogers's big meeting and have a good time. Even the doctors have an "American Medical Temperance Association," and during the present month is being held at Port Richmond, Staten Island and New York a grand national prohibition camp ground association.

As usual, at this season, there is not a family in our neighborhood without its guest or boarder from the cities and even distant States, a fact contributing largely to social enjoyment. At Mr. Robt Murray's is Mrs. Wise, the wife of Dr. Wise, U. S. Navy; at "Mountain View," Mrs. F. H. Wyeth, sister of Miss E. M. Horner, and Miss Almeda, of Philadelphia, and at Yelverton Mrs. Robertson and family, of Middlesex county, Va.

The last mentioned lady is the granddaughter of the late Wm. F. Radolph, and before marriage was Miss Tabb, of Gloucester county.

The farming and mercantile interests were never more prosperous in our county. Excellent crops of wheat and hay have already been secured. The fruit crop of berries, apples and peaches is large, and the dairy industry is competing successfully with the markets of Maryland and of adjoining States.

The domestic labor question is daily becoming here more difficult of solution. Farm hands and house servants can barely be secured. Some of our ladies talk about an appeal to Gen. Booth to send here a branch of his "Colony Across the Sea." A friend in Louisiana writes to me lately: "The negroes as freemen in our parishes are failures; sorry I ever saw one. In my opinion," he adds, "our nation has not yet solved the turkey problem by a good deal. For ourselves, we have respect for a genuine, old time Virginia 'mammy' and 'uncle.' H.

THE HYENAS JUMPED ON HIM.—William Collins, the trainer and keeper of Sells Brothers' herd of elephants, came near being torn to pieces at Denver, Thursday last, by the hyenas, and but for the assistance of the circus employees he would have been not only killed, but eaten. Collins had been looking after the hyenas in addition to caring for the elephants, as the regular hyena trainer is off on a vacation, and had entered the cage preparatory to taking part in the morning parade. He had just fastened the doorway, or gateway, when the largest animal leaped on him and fastened her teeth in his thigh. Collins pulled his club which he carried in his belt, but the other hyenas in a trice were on him. He fought and yelled lustily for help, but the rest of the menagerie became so excited that the employees with difficulty located the trouble. Collins had by this time become so exhausted that he was fast going under. The hyenas were beaten almost to death before they relaxed their hold, and after Collins was rescued, more dead than alive, the animals went to fighting one another. They were subdued by a stream from the fire hydrant. Collins will recover, but he was terribly injured.

A BATTLE WITH BEES.—As the minister was in the midst of a baptismal service near Littleton, Pa., Saturday, the ear-piercing screams of little Bertha Ilgus, the daughter of a Lancaster merchant, interrupted the proceedings. The child had been standing on the edge of the crowd when a swarm of bees moved along and alighted on her limbs under her clothing. It was a little while before the cause of the child's cries were ascertained, and then the women around turned and bravely fought the insects. Two women held the child, and with their hats, aprons and sticks the others gave battle. The contest lasted fifteen minutes, during which time the religious ceremonies were suspended, and finally the bees were beaten off, but all of the women who engaged in the battle were more or less seriously stung about the hands and face. The child was frightfully stung, and her limbs were swollen to twice their natural size.

Wake Up.

If you wake up in the morning with a bitter or bad taste in your mouth, Langnor, Dull Headache, Despondency, Constipation, take Simmons Liver Regulator. It corrects the bilious stomach, sweetens the breath and cleanses the furred tongue. Children as well as adults sometimes eat something that does not digest well, producing Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Restlessness, or Sleeplessness—a good dose of Regulator will give relief. So perfectly harmless is this remedy that it can be taken by the youngest infant or the most delicate person without injury, no matter what the condition of the system may be. It can do no harm if it does no good, but its reputation for 40 years proves it never fails in doing good.

BRISTOL, TENNESSEE.

The Progressive South

Where John H. Smith, President of the Richmond Terminal, says the next large development is to be in the South is the favored spot of the whole United States; and is the great field for immigration when we can get it, and the place for happy and comfortable home. I expect the next large development to be in the Bristol district—Bristol and East Tennessee section, which has practically the same natural advantages as Birmingham, but which have never been worked up. This section will grow rapidly within the next few years. The railroad facilities are good now, and are being improved all the time.

BRISTOL, TENN.

Is in a country richer in coal and iron than any single State in America. It is a solid city, backed by unlimited resources in great variety, and is being pushed to the fore by a well-organized, systematically-working Chamber of Commerce. The outlook is favorable for Bristol to become the Pittsburgh of the South. Address CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

CORSETS.

It's easy enough

—the Ball corset. That's because it has coils of fine wire springs in the sides. They clasp the figure closely, but yield to every motion.

They "give", but they come back. So does your money —if you've worn a Ball corset two or three weeks, and find that you don't like it.
